

ST. EUSTATIUS

JUNE 8 ~ 15, 2024

The moment you arrive in Eustatius, or 'Statia' as it's affectionately known, you immediately get that special Statia feeling. There are no big crowds at the airport...actually, you don't find big crowds anywhere on Statia! National parks and preserves cover nearly a third of the land and the entire shoreline is ringed in a marine park that encompasses some 14 square miles of prime marine habitat.

Scuba Diving Magazine recently awarded multiple top honors to Statia for wreck diving, macro life and the health of the marine environment. The pristine waters around Statia are diverse with healthy corals, abundant marine life and a lot of variety.

While on Statia you'll call the picturesque Old Gin House your home for the week. This historic landmark hotel incorporates the 250-year-old walls of the Mooshay Bay Public House, with parts constructed from old bricks used by sailing ships as ballast. This boutique inn includes 20 rooms and suites nestled into palms and bougainvillea. The ocean view from the Old Gin House's restaurant is considered the best on the island, and the character-rich bar is a favorite place to gather after a day of diving. There's a fresh water pool, bar and ocean front deck. Each room has a TV, mini fridge, WiFi, along with beautiful views and outdoor seating.
